

Carmella Iacovetta
PLS 136
Assignment Two

Devolution is when the state is given back their power by the federal government. Some feel this is the way it should be while others prefer the federal government to be in control.